

---

Can they avoid the next financial crisis?

XIV International CIFA Forum
Monaco – 1 June 2016

Prof. Michel Girardin

Financial excesses in a recurring mode

- ❑ World economy on soft patch
- ❑ It is a hard job for Central Banks to fight deflation
- ❑ Solving the Debt overhang is like peeling an onion: slow and painful
- ❑ How do we get out of the synchronicity of financial excesses ?

World growth slowdown impacts Equities to Bonds relative returns

Source: Thomson Reuters Datastream / MacroGuide

China slowdown: by how much, really ?

Source: Thomson Reuters Datastream

Japan tried ZIRP, than NIRP but the real economy remains in “RIP” mode !

Source: Thomson Reuters Datastream / MacroGuide

Speculative bubbles will always be around ...

Including housing prices in inflation allows the Fed to dampen 1987, 2000 and ... 2007 crashes !

Source: Thomson Reuters Datastream

Inflation in the Household shopping basket ? You bet !

Conclusions

- ❑ World growth is weakening
- ❑ Austerity is the painful way to deleverage. Fresh growth impetus would prove far better
- ❑ Helicopter money to the rescue ? Sovereign Funds far better
- ❑ Targeting asset prices is the best way to avoid the next financial crisis

